Death Calls Two Dixon People Today who Settled Here in the Sixties.

SAMSON ROSENTHAL PASSES AWAY.

Was a Much Respected Citizen and Business Man—Mrs. Catherine Metzler is Called Home.

In the death at 9:25 o'clock this morning of Samson Rosenthal, the community loses one who has watched the gradual yetsteady growth of Dixon to its present dimensions and has in no small way helped its enterprising citizens in the enlargement of the city of their choice. He was a conservative business man, yet one who, when once embarked upon an undertaking, spared no effort in bringing the affair to a successful conclusion. Mr. Rosenthal has been in business in Dixon longer than any other merchant here, having been a factor in the mercantile world here for the past thirty-eight years. During all this time his strict integrity and unfaltering honesty, combined with a geniality of soul which never deserted him, caused him to attain success in a financial way as well as to become from the first a respected and honored citizen.

Samson Rosenthal was born October 3, 1826, in the village of Diefstadt, Germany, and was therefore 75 years, 1 month and 5 days of age. He came to the United States in 1853, settling first at Harrisburg, Pa., and in that city on January 3, 1855, he was united in marriage to Miss Mina Cahn. The children of that union now living, all of whom have arrived at maturity, are Eli, Max, Mrs. Fannie Bacharach, all of this city; Moritz of Chicago, Carrie of Dixon and Edward of Chicago. In 1862 the family moved to Decatur, Ill., remaining there but little over a year and coming to Dixon in 1863. Mr. Rosenthal opened a clothing store a No. 114 First street, which has been the location of his business ever since, but has undergone much enlargement and many improvements. A number of years ago he took into partnership his son Max, under the firm name of S. Rosenthal & Son. On January 24 of the present year his loved wife passed away.

He bore the great loss with outward fortitude, but his friends soon began to notice with sorrow that Mr. Rosenthal was perceptibly declining in health. His bodily powers failing to ward off disease, an old complaint returned with aggravated force, with the result that last Saturday he was removed to the Dixon hospital for a palliative operation, which while not prolonging his life as the means of preventing much unnecessary suffering. There he expired as stated above, surrounded by his children. He will be long remembered in Dixon as charitable, sympathetic and generous.

The funeral arrangements will be announced tomorrow.

Mrs. Catherine Metzler.

After an illness extending over more than a year, Mrs. Catherine Metzler died at 4 o'clock this (Friday) morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. O. Stewart, on West Fellows street. Mrs. Metzler is well known and respected by the people of Dixon, having lived here for the past thirty-five years.

She was born in Somerset, Penn., March 5, 1837, and was consequently 64 years old at the time of her death. While living in the east she was married to Jacob Metzler and immediately following the war they moved west and settled at Dixon. Her husband died fourteen years ago and she leaves to mourn her death one daughter, Mrs. O. Stewart, and four sons, Aaron, Will and Burt of Dixon and Oscar of Polo. She also leaves a sister, Mrs. Mary Christner, who arrived this noon with her son, Ross, from Somerset, Pa.

The funeral services will be held

WALNUT EMBEZZLER CAUGHT

SPENT EMPLOYER'S MONEY FREELY.

The Bureau County Republican of Thursday says:

A. P. Lengel, who succeeded in appropriating to his own use about $6,000 belonging to the Ennes, West Elevator Company, of Walnut, and $1,000 of the Neola company has been arrested in Pennsylvania and is expected to arrive from that state today in the custody of J. M. Ennis, who went for him last Saturday. Mr. Lengel was arrested near Reading, Pa., by a detective from whom he had previously escaped and was placed in charge of M. J. Miller, chief of police of Reading The latter sent a telegram to Mr. Ennes Friday telling of the capture. As Mr. Lengel was in charge of the elevator at Deer Grove as manager, the trial will be held in Whiteside county.

Mr. Lengel's downfall was caused by his extravagance and his living beyond his means. He was fond of nice things and wanted to appear as a business man and the only way he found for so doing was by the use of other people's money. Being trusted with the buying and marketing of so much grain he found the opportunities and indulged in a continual dribble from the funds of the company. Although his salary was but $40 a month he purchased a half interest in a billiard hall at Deer Grove, built himself a house and sported horses, carriages, a piano and the best of everything. The villagers thought he was a remarkable financier to plan so well and the firm was led to believe he had received money from relatives.

A few months ago the Ennes, West Company sold the elevator to the Neola (Armour) company and a short time afterwards when they came to checking up accounts Lengal's crookedness was discovered. Lengel knew what was coming and took the precaution to skip out before his arrest was effected. The Ennes, West Company attached all of his property in sight. The shortage of the Ennes, West company is placed at $6,000 and in the short time he was in the employ of the Neola company he used, it is claimed, $1,000 of their funds.

Burglars Revisit Harmon.

Monday night thieves entered Long & Durr's hardware store in Harmon sometime between 12 o'clock and morning. The outer door to the safe not being locked they had no trouble in prying open the doors to the apartments. They obtained the bonds and mortgages which belong to the schools, but did not find much cash. The village council met in the store in the evening and it was midnight before Mr. Long closed up. No one knows how they gained admittance as the door and windows were all locked next morning, but think they must have had a key to the door. The parties are unknown.

Considine's meat market was also visited but they did not obtain much cash, taking only the pennies he had in the till. The locks were all intact in the morning.

Burglars forced an entrance into the Hawley's general store at Round Grove in Whiteside county Tuesday night and rifled the money drawer and safe which they broke open. The thieves did not disturb the stock and only took a small quantity of change. The only thing aside from the money taken was an old watch which Mr. Hawley kept in remembrance of its adventures. Up to the present there is no clue to the thieves and it is probable they will not be punished for their prank.

Not Much Profit in Prophetstown Burglary.

Burglars raided Prophetstown Wednesday night, entering stores through the front doors by means of skeleton keys. At the dry goods store of Plummer & Seibens they took $7 in cash and a good overcoat. At the saloon of Silas Langdon they got $8, an officer's "billy" and a pair of spectacles; and at John Kurts' saloon they got a few dollars and a few drinks. Having stolen in all about $25 worth, they silently stole away.

Import Negro Servant Girls.

Kankakee, Ill., is expecting the arrival of a dozen trained servant girls, all negroes, from South Carolina this week. They will be allowed money for their transportation and will receive $3 a week for their services. The housewives hope to settle a vexatious domestic problem by the imported labor. The experiment was made of introducing a Japanese man from Chicago to do housework in a rich family of that city several weeks ago, but the Oriental became lonesome and returned to the metropolis after the first week.

Captain Charles Schick.

Our former citizen Charles Schick now of Chicago is part owner with Dr. Wilcoxon and three others of the steam yacht, Ruth, the vessel which with Dr. Wilcoxon in command assisted Lord Lipton in a recent accident on lake Michigan. The Ruth is fit for either lake or ocean voyages and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Schick may hope for an outing on her another season. Charlie mas captain of our college militia and now of the lake marine. Dr. Wilcox is a nephew of Mrs. Sarah Brubaker of this city.

—James D. Sickels came home from Clinton, Ia., yesterday.

—Van McKenney and Z. P. Whitney were here yesterday from Rock Falls.

—Congressman R. R. Hitt is preparing to leave for Washington within the next few days.

—The re-dedication of the newly rebuilt Brethren church in Sterling will take place at 2 o'clock next Sunday afternoon.

—The Oregon high school won the football game from the Sycamore boys at the former city last Saturday with a score of 6 to 0.

—Mrs Mary E. Trainor went to Chicago Thursday and Tuesday evening started for Los Angeles, California, by way of Denver and Salt Lake City.

—An Earlville man recently bought 400 bushels of corn from a farmer of that vicinity that had been cribbed for 13 years. The corn was brown with age, the germ dead, but the kernel was sound and hard and all right for glucose.

—Miss Nellie Mammen of Oregon, and Amos R. Lee of Chana, were united in marriage at 11 o'clock Wednesday at the Lutheran parsonage by the pastor, H. C. Funk. Mr. and Mrs. Lee will make their home in Dixon where Mr. Lee has steady employment.—Ogle County Republican.

—Forreston is to have a new town hall, a brick structure to replace the old frame one. The first floor will include the jail, the court room, the council room and the pumping apparatus and fire engine. The second floor will contain a room for the township officers, two other smaller rooms and one large room.

—A live eagle which had probably come in contact with a live electric wire and was partially stunned, was captured on the sidewalk on one of the streets of Sterling the other evening. The bird recovered from its apparent dazed condition to make a desperate resistance to its capture, but was finally subdued.

—Everything that tends to show how rapidly Ashton is growing should be heralded to the people because year after year our town becomes more attractive as a place of residence, a location for business. The latest we notice is a remark dropped by our postmaster, C. K. Northrup. He tells us that the beginning of the next postal year July 1, 1902, Ashton will be a salaried office. The business has come very near reaching the requirement several times lately but fell a few dollars short. This year has largely exceeded the limit during the dullest months and nothing can defeat it for the rank. Now is the time to invest in Ashton.—Ashton Gazette.

Historical Tree Is Burned.

What is known as the largest tree in Illinois and probably the largest in the northwest, located two miles west of Wilmette near Chicago, was set on fire Tuesday night and the residents of Wilmette and the Historical Society of Evanston are hunting for the culprit. The tree has probably been killed by the flames and smoke.

The residents of the north shore suburbs are very indignant about the matter, and if it is ascertained who set fire to the tree he will be prosecuted. The tree measures thirty-one feet in circumference and there is enough space inside the tree for three horses to stand. It is a cottonwood, and stands upon the farm of Martin Kloepfer.

The tree marked the trail of Indians along the north shore, and, according to the Evanston Historical Society, it was visited by LaSalle and Marquette in their exploring expeditions of the Mississippi.

Probate Court.

Several cases were disposed of by Judge Farrand in the county court yesterday. The petition for a storm drain on North Dement avenue to begin 50 feet north of Morgan street and run to the river, which was filed some time since, was dismissed and leave given to file a new petition. The improvement will not be made this fall, however, on acount of the lateness of the season. The petition was dismissed on account of clerical errors and because there was not a proper division of the cost between the city and land owners. City Attorney Kent will have a new assessment made and file on new petition.

The new petition was filed this morning by City Attorney Kent and will be given a hearing soon. The case was quite severely fought by some of the property owners on the north side who were represented by Atty. J. W. Watts and it is probable they will continue their protest.

In the estate of Peter Miller, deceased, the report of the administrator with the will annexed was approved and the administrator ordered to pay legacy of $5 due James Miller to the county treasurer.

Certificate of publication of notice of hearing on final report in the estate of Alhsah Newens was approved and the executor's final report approved and executor ordered to pay balance in his hands to proper legatee when the estate will be held settled.

Claims against the estate of Benj I. Atherton not allowed have been set for hearing Nov. 18, at 1:30 and the clerk ordered to notify all claimants.

Sale bill of personal property in estate of Oscar N. Emmert has been approved.

Conservator's report in the estate of Nellie E. Holt has been approved.

Report of administrator in the estate of Daniel J. Wetherbee has been approved.

In the estate of Elizabeth L. Holt, certificate of publication and affidavit of posting of notice to creditors was approved.

The court appointed Calvin B. Crawford, the father, as guardian for his minor chtidren who are heirs in the estate of William Dysart. Bond for the $2.000 was furnished and approved.

On motion of Henry S. Dixon and on the testimony of John Erwin and Hen S. Dixon, two attorneys in general practice and of good character and reputation, a certificate of good moral character was ordered issued to John G. Dornblaser.

Too Many Cabbage Heads.

C. L. Anthony near Sterling planted eight acres of Holland cabbage last year; but he bit off more than he can chew. Cabbage brings a good price; but do not pay to ship to Chicago. He has stored all he can, is not prepared to make sour krout, and has acres of heads still standing in the field. There are no cabbages in this section this year and little heads bring a big price in the stores. Why not send a few team loads to Dixon and supply families in want of vegetables at a reasonable price.

Farmers to Build Telephone Line.

The Farmers' Economic Union, a secret organization near Carbondale, Ill., following the plans of labor unions, has been granted a franchise by the Jackson county board of supervisors to use the highways in erecting an independent telephone system. This believed to be the first time a secret organization has attempted such an undertaking.

Silence You Can See.

There is no such thing as silence in this world. It is an impossibility. That is partly the reason why science has enabled us to see it.

The explanation of the paradox is this: Silence, as we understand it, simply means that there are sounds too delicate or too loud for the ear to register. In other words, when we can't hear anything we call that condition "silence." But wherever you are there are sounds around you. Even in the deepest mine the air vibrates and makes a sound. An instrument has been invented that will catch these sounds and permit of the vibrations being represented pictorially on a screen, and in that way you may see silence and properly understand what it means.

By comparing the pictures of noises with those of that condition of things known as silence we gain an idea of the difference between a noisy night, for instance, and one when "absolute silence reigns," as the novelist puts it. It is rather surprising to find so much disturbance at the time when everything appears to be perfectly quiet.—Pearson's Weekly.

Diplomatic.

The late Lord Savile used to say, according to The Candid Friend, "that high diplomatists had always to be on their guard against intriguing women, mainly European agents, who would use any wile to extract information. During the Russo-Turkish war, when Europe was always on the verge of a crisis and Russian statesmen were most anxious to know what England would do under given circumstances, a lady came up to him suddenly at a ball and said:

"I hear that the Russians have made a forced march and entered Constantinople," hoping no doubt that he would be surprised into some indiscreet expression.

He merely replied:

"Indeed! And I suppose the sultan has conferred on them the order of the Turkish Bath!"

"And they say in Paris that if England does not interfere the eastern question is settled in favor of Russia."

"And that," replied his excellency, "is, I suppose, the new judgment of Paris."

The Appian Way.

The famous Appian way, mentioned by almost every Roman writer, connected the Eternal City with all parts of south Italy. For many miles from Rome the space on each side was filled with sepulchers, many of them of persons distinguished in history. To have a sepulcher on the Appian way was equivalent to being buried in Greenwood, in New York, or Pere la Chaise, in Paris.

Crabs Are Fighters.

Crabs are fighting animals. In fact, they will fight anything, says a naturalist. I have seen a crab, in conflict with a lobster, catch the latter over the fore part of the head, where the shell is hardest, and crush it in by one effort, and it rather bears out my idea that the claws of these creatures are particularly weapons of war; that the moment one of them receives severe injury in a claw it drops it off by voluntary amputation, severing its connection with the body at the shoulder by an act of its own will. It seems to me probable that if the claw were necessary for feeding nature would rather seek to cure an injury to it than let the animal discard it altogether.

The species of crab which is most conspicuously a fighter is the hermit crab. Its first idea of independent life is to eat a harmless whelk and occupy its shell. Its next notion is to give battle to every crab of the same persuasion as itself that it comes across. Altogether hermit crabs are undoubtedly the most quarrelsome creatures in existence.

A Share In a Jewel.

There is a story told of a French servant who was shown a priceless jewel by a great duke.

"Thank you, my lord duke," said the man of science, "for allowing me to share with you the possession of so great a treasure."

"In what way?" said the duke.

"Why, your grace can do no more than look at it, and you have allowed me to do the same."—All the Year Round.

FINE DRAWING EXHIBIT

Now on Display in the High School Building, District No. 1.

The traveling exhibit arranged under the supervision of the Western Drawing Teachers' Association is now placed on the walls of the High School Building, corner of 5th St. and Hennepin avenue. The building will be open to the public on Saturday morning from 8:30 to 12 o'clock, and all who are interested are invited to call and inspect the work. It is without doubt the finest exhibit of the actual work in the public schools of the Central part of the United States that has even been arranged; everyone interested should plan to see it. Miss Barr, our supervisor of drawing will be present to direct the inspection. All the children in the public schools in both districts of the city will visit the exhibit.

The collection embraces work in pencil, water color, crayon and ink, in designing, mechanical drawing, landscape, and historic ornament.

The exhibit will remain here for one week, in order that all the pupils may be given an opportunity to carefully inspect it. The scheme is a very commendable one, the exhibit is a very carefully selected one from the very best work in all the schools in the central west. An inspection of it can not fail in proving helpful to the pupils. The exhibit came from LaSalle, Ill., to Dixon. Remember that the building will be open to the public on Saturday morning from 8:30 to 12. Everyone is invited to call.

FLOURISHING RAILROAD MEN'S CLUB.

At Clinton, Iowa---Maintained by C. & N. W.---Free Transportation Curtailed.

The Club composed of Northwestern railway men whose reading room at Clinton, Iowa, has recently been remodeled and improved, due partially to the interest of the company, which assists in maintaining the rooms, elected officers recently at a meeting. The following were named:

Conductor George Dayton, president; Baggageman George Mayhew, vice president; Brakeman A. J. Addison, secretary; Mail Clerk Frank Burdick, treasurer.

The board of trustees was also named, to be composed of the following: Engineers George Clark and Burt Ziegnefus, Conductor Nick Oaks, Baggageman C. W. Hall and Machinist A. G. Cunningham.

The rooms are located at 813 Fourth street, Clinton, Ia., and are always in charge of a janitor. All of the leading periodicals, magazines, newspapers and trade journals are taken and each member carries a key, admitting him at any time to read, do any writing he may wish to, chat with friends, or take a bath. The company has found it a very helpful way of entertaining employes while off duty.

Remembered Their Pastor.

Last Tuesday evening about twenty-five of the members of the Christian church of Pine Creek gathered at the home of Rev. D. F. Seyster and gave him a pleasant surprise. Although he was not at home when the crowd arrived, he was greatly suprised when he came home. After he had somewhat recovered from his surprise, Hon. V. H. Bovey, in behalf of the crowd, presented him with a fine fur coat. After refreshments were served and all having enjoyed themselves the crowd returned to their homes declaring that they had a most excellent time.

—Congressman George Edmund Foss, who delivered the McKinley memorial address at the opening of the Y. M. C. A. state convention in Dixon, yesterday became the proud father of twin girl babies. Three little girls now constitute his family.

—Wm. Young, one of the early settlers of Lena, died Wednesday night after a protracted illness. He was a retired blacksmith, and one of the best known and most highly respected citizens of that locality.

WHAT THE NORTHWESTERN IS DOING.

General Superintendent Aishton, In an Interview Tells About It.

General Superintendent Richard H. Aishton of the Chicago & North-western R'y Co., is a busy man about these days. During a recent conversa- with a Dixon railroad man he said.

"Ta'king about extensions, do you know that the Northwestern now has a good many irons in the fire? that it is building into Peoria and a new line in Wisconsin as well as double tracking the Iowa line? That double tracking is more expensive than the original building of a line? Yes, that is a fact; costs more. The double tracking across Iowa, cutting grades, building new bridges and culverts and taking out kinks is a mammoth undertaking. It will give the Northwestern one of the best lines across the state. The Burlington has a good line, too. But any statements that the Northwestern can haul more to the train mile is hard to establish. Reducing grades and the cost of transportation is the order of the day. In Indiana the Lackawanna and the Baltimore and Ohio are at work. Why, the Baltimore and Ohio is practically rebuilding its entire line to Chicago. Competition is such that this must be done."

Mr. Aishton Superintendent and the Man.

General Superintendent Aishton is a stalwart, swarthy man, of medium height, so full of life and energy that when he talks he seems to be repressing himself, and quivers with his intensity like a great racing locomotive, steamed up ready for a record run. He is one of the few men in the land entitled to be called handsome, and his dark eyes are as bright as semaphore lights. He is dressy and his gloves and clothes seem part of the man. He was the first superintendent on the old northern Iowa division, when it had headquarters at Eagle Grove and included all the territory round-about Sioux City, including Hawarden and Alton.

"That was considerable of division, but I managed to get around and know the people. Acquaintance? Yes, that is the best thing a railroad man can have. I sometimes feel very keenly the fact that I cannot keep in as close touch with the system as I used to with the division I had."

The House That Jack Built.

Mother Goose and her son Jack live in a clearing in the woods in "The House That Jack Built." The house is found one day by fairies, Grassblades and Peaseblossoms, who are at play in the woods. As Mother Goose comes out of her house they hide behind trees and vines. She calls her son Jack and sends him to search for the golden eggs laid by her wonderful goose. Jack brings the three eggs; Mother Goose names them "Humpty Dumpties" and they are locked within the house, the key being hung outside the door post. Jack is then sent to invite the guests to a party which Mother Goose is planning to give to all her children. Mother Goose goes out to buy goodies for the party. When she is gone the fairies come forth and caper, but hide when they see the Knave of Hearts. The crows who have overheard the plans and who are angry at being left out, plan to spoil the party by stealing the key to "The House That Jack Built." The fairies see them steal it. Mother Goose returns hurriedly, in search of the key, but finds it gone. To her distress, her guests begin to arrive and she receives them. The last to arrive are the fairies, who are welcomed by Mother Goose and introduced to her children. This ends the first act. Among the guests are Little Boy Blue, Jack Horner, Old Mother Hubbard, Jack and Gill and Simple Simon. To be continued.

THE GRACE OF GRECIAN GODDESSES.

An Auspicious Opening for the Y. M. C. A. Entertainment Course.

The Nellie Peck Saunders Tableaux D'Art Company filled the opening date of the winter's entertainment course offered by the Young Men's Christian Association and was greeted by a gratifyingly large audience at the Opera House last evening.

The entertainment was most unique and appealed to the artistic temperament of the audience. Nine beautiful young ladies adorned in the graceful costumes of the ancient Greeks presented drills, posings, plastiques, tableaux and Grecian pictures under the radiant glow of colored lights making an array of beauty in form and in motion delightful to the senses.

In the statue posing the young ladies presented the effect of marble whitness with their powdered wigs and snowy raiment. Changes were made quickly behind a sliding curtain, the subjects presented being Three Fates, Fall of Babylon, The Attack, Result of the Attack, Death of Virginia, Day Dreams, Dance of the Muses, Toilet of the Bride, and Deborah's Song of Triumph. Music accompanied their posings.

Mrs. Saunders is a gifted and cultured reader with a most pleasing voice and the charm of naturalness. She has the ability to impersonate a wide variety of character and truly interprets her author, whether it be the dramatic scene in the arena of "Quo Vadis" or the touching pathos of Child life depicted by Kate Douglas Wiggin in "The Story of Patsey." There is something unusually satisfying about her impersonations.

Martha Reynold Colby as a violin soloist was immediately in favor with her audience and received a hearty encore. A mandolin duet by Caroline Nichols and Laura Thomas was also very pleasing and their encore number was a unique imitation of a bagpipe. Other special numbers were a piano solo by Grace Garretson Hoffman and a vocal solo and encore by Nellie Vorhees.

The closing number was especially fine, being the presentation of President McKinley's favorite hymn, "Nearer My God to Thee," in the picturesque language of the mutes. Five of the young ladies gaye the graceful movements suggesting the sentiments of the lines and were accompanied by the others with voice, violin and piano. Everything about the entertainment was notably artistic, the costumes were rich, and the evening pleasant to the last degree.

The next entertainment in the course will be Emil Liebling, concert pianist, with baritone soloist, Monday, Dec. 2nd.

The bodies were purchased during the day from the Harvey medical college, of this city, and were being shipped to Missouri for purposes of dissection. The only charge that can be brought is the shipping of bodies in a manner contrary to law.

Schoenleber, of 147 Eugene street, is under arrest, and Dr. Francis Dickinson, president of the Harvey medical college, has been called on to explain her connection with the affair. Its Work Legitimate.

In commenting upon some unfavorable criticism of the Republican press bureau, which is an adjunct of the Republican state committee, F. H. Rowe, chairman of the committee, in a recent interview corrects some misstatements. He says in part:

"The press bureau conducted during the campaign last year by the Republican state committee, gave such satisfaction, did such effective work for the party, and was found to be so helpful to the provincial press, that the question of continuing it as a permanent adjunct of the committee was considered. After the committee discussed the matter and concluded such a purpose desirable and advantageous, the matter was submitted to a number of representative Republican newspaper men throughout the state, and they, with one accord, concurred in the conclusion of the committee and strongly urged the establishment of the service.

"The question of financing the bureau had been determined in advance, the facts being that there was a sufficient balance on hand at the conclusion of the campaign to carry on the work for a year, and assurances of voluntary contributions were given by party leaders for the future expenses of the bureau. At the same time, it was decided to open permanent headquarters at the Leland hotel, Springfield, the manager of the press bureau to have charge of the same and perform the duties of secretary, as well.

"While it is true that the Republican press bureau has supported and defended Governor Yates' administration, it has just as loyally supported every other branch of the state service for which the Republican party is responsible, every state offical being warmly commended as occasion arose for such commendation.

"The bureau has studiously refrained from taking part in factional politics or in building up this or that machine. On the contrary, it has on more than one occasion criticised the tendency in this direction and urged party harmony and concerted effort toward the accomplishment of the desired end, the supremacy of the Republican party and the maintenance of Republican principles in state and nation."

Roosevelt Can Interpre McKinleyt.

The American Economist has this to say of certain mangled reports and unwarranted interpretations of President McKinley's Buffalo speech:

President McKinley not only did not say, he did not intimate "the period of high tariff protection is past." He could not possibly have said, "We can no longer prosper by selling only to our exclusive home market," because we are not doing that; we are selling $1,400,000,000 worth now to other markets and nobody, not even a Democratic editor, believes we are going to lessen those sales by adhering to the policies under which we have obtained that trade.

To make it appear that Mr. McKinley said, or expressed the idea that "our present tariff law is not in harmony with the spirit of the times," and that "unless we change our policy we shall be plunged into commercial wars," is very far short of honest, but it is the way that many anti-tariff papers have treated the speech. Every qualifying phrase is omitted, and Mr. Roosevelt is asked to accept this false interpretation and shape his policy in accord therewith. He is in no danger of doing so.

The Economist is perfectly right in this matter. As the Rochester (N. Y.) Democrat and Chronicle has heretofore pointed out, the late president spoke of the protective policy as "now firmly established," and he proposed to utilize for reciprocity purposes only such tariffs as could be wholly or partly spared "without harm to our industries and labor." As for President Roosevelt, he is fully capable of mastering the letter and spirit of McKinley's last public utterance without the assistance of those who have undertaken to distort its sentences and pervert its meaning.

Yates' Administration.

As is usual about this time of the year, when disappointed office-seekers see a long, cold winter before them, and the unwholesome prospect of having to work for a living staring them in the face, we hear of the awful mistakes of the present administration. Governor Yates is called "weak," "corrupt," etc. Now, what has the governor done to deserve such charges? Will not his administration compare favorably with those of his two predecessors so far as it has gone? Has he pardoned any anarchists, who were fairly convicted before a fair jury? Has he openly endorsed any laws giving corporations more than their deserved rights? Has there been a scandal connected with his administration? No. Then why is he being attacked?

The answer is plain. A few small-minded newspapers attack him because he has not given them the advertising they think their support is worth, or because he has not allowed them to name every appointee in their city or district. But the great masses of the people, the people who elected Richard Yates, are well satisfied that the interests of the state are being safe-guarded and are well content to rest the helm of the ship of state in the hands of the present executive, until he does something worse than "allow the (politically), hungry to go unfed."—Peoria Journal.

Editor Bryan, of The Commoner, is very indignant that the freedom of the press should be blamed for the development of class hatred in this country. It is not the freedom of the press that is wholly to blame, Mr. Bryan. We know of one case in which it seems to be a reckless freedom of the tongue.—Joliet Republican.

It may be somewhat annoying to take measures to prevent the surplus from so piling up that it will become a menance to the country, but nevertheless, most other governments would be willing to trade off their deficits for our surplus—and glad of the chance. —Lebanon Journal.

The great problem with some Democratic newspapers just now is what in the name of common sense they can find to criticise in the administration. Our enemy is our worst enemy when he is well-behaved—Cambridge Chronicle.

CASE HAPPENS UP IN MICHIGAN

Society Funds Robbed of $57,000 and the Culprit Confesses and Awaits Judgment.

Port Huron, Mich., Nov. 8.—By his own written confession Charles D. Thompson, supreme finance keeper of the supreme tent, Knights of the Maccabees, and a prominent vessel and tug man of this city, is a defaulter in the sum of $57,000. Thompson, however, was heavily bonded in the National Surety company, of New York, and the Fidelity and Deposit company, of Baltimore, and the order, therefore, is protected from loss. Thompson made no effort to escape after his defalcation was discovered. He is now at his home awaiting the action of the bonding companies. His embezzlement is confessed in a letter to Supreme Commander D. P. Markey, in which he says, after expressing his shame for his rascality:

"Intended" to "Put It Back."

"I was engaged in a legitimate business venture in which I had made a large investment, and found myself in a position when further money was necessary to save myself from bankruptcy and ruin. There was apparently no chance for loss. I then betrayed my trust, and used the funds of the order, at the time believing there was no question of my ability to replace them within a short time. The amount I used was $57,000. I have no hope of being able to pay this amount. I know the order is protected from loss by the surety bond of nearly twice the amount in a perfectly responsible company, but this does not lessen my mental suffering nor relieve me from the disgrace of having betrayed the confidence reposed in me."

How the Theft Was Discovered.

The first intimation of the shortage came last Tuesday afternoon when Supreme Commander Markey and Supreme Record Keeper George J. Sigle were checking over the finance keeper's books. An error was discovered and they called Thompson's attention to it. He said that he would take the books and papers home with him that night and look it up. Wednesday morning he came to Supreme Commander Markey's office and confessed that his accounts were short $57,000. He then and there signed a written confession of the embezzlement. An examination of the books followed and the shortage was disclosed.

SOCIETY IS ABUNDANTLY SECURE.

Every Officer Who Handles Money Is Bonded to the Limit of Liability.

Supreme Commander Markey makes the following statement in regard to Thompson's defalcation:

"Charles B. Thompson has been supreme finance keeper of the supreme tent since it was organized, in September, 1883, and has handled and disbursed more than $15,000,000 during that time. * * * Thompson's shortage is $57,000, but no loss will be incurred by the supreme tent, as every financial official of the association, including Mr. Thompson, is bonded in surety companies, and the bond held by the order as security for Mr. Thompson's integrity is very much greater than the shortage. * * * Pending an adjustment with the bond companies there will be no delay in the payment of death claims."

The companies on Thompson's bond have been notified of the shortage and representatives of each are at Port Huron. Thompson awaits their arrival, and whatever action they may take. He is not under arrest, but says that he expects to be arrested and prosecuted, and is prepared to pay the penalty of his breach of trust.

The heavy loss sustained by the Thompson Towing and Wrecking company, of this city, of which Thompson is a member, on the steamer Harlem, which they raised from the bottom of Lake Superior, was the occasion for the defalcation. Thompson said that he used the funds of the order in this enterprise, which proved very unprofitable, as the expense of raising and refitting the craft was so great that she had to be sold at a loss, it is said, of $75,000, instead of a profit.

Another Case of Shortage Reported.

MISS STONE IS STILL ALIVE.

Brigands Make a Proposal Through Her for Her Release.

Sofia, Bulgaria, Nov. 8.—A letter has been received from Miss Stone, who is a prisoner for ransom with brigands, in which she says she is well, as is Mme. Tsilka, and sends a proposal for her release dictated by the brigands. The letter is dated Nov. 1. Consul General Dickinson has dispatched a messenger with a reply to the brigands' proposals as formulated in Miss Stone's letter. It is understood that an agreement as to the amount of the ransom has been virtually established.

The settlement as to the manner and place of payment and the surrender of the captives presents the most difficulty, but an entente is expected soon. The brigands are not willing to cross into Turkey to obtain the money, while the Bulgarian government would oppose releasing Miss Stone on Bulgarian soil.

SWITCHMEN OUT ON STRIKE.

Move Is General on the Rio Grande Railway—"Recognition" Demanded.

Denver, Colo., Nov. 8.—The switchmen on the Denver and Rio Grande railway yesterday declared a general strike, and the men went out at Denver, Pueblo, Gunnison and at some other points on the system. It is understood that the remainder will go out today. The question involved is said to be the recognition of the Switchmen's Union of North America.

The company holds that its agreement with the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen covers the yard service, and declines to recognize the other organization. In Denver the men out number thirty-one; in Pueblo twenty, and a lesser number at other points. W. G. Lee, of Cleveland, first vice grand master of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, is at Pueblo.

DESPERADOES ESCAPE

LIFE BLOOD IS SHED IN THE RUSH

One Convict Being Killed—Three Guards Dangerously Wounded —Account of the Mutiny.

Leavenworth, Kan., Nov. 8.—One man was killed, five others quite severely hurt and twenty-six desperate convicts are at large as a result of a mutiny late yesterday afternoon at the site of the new United States prison, two miles southwest of here, where 400 prisoners from the federal prison, in charge of thirty armed guards, were at work. When the trouble began the rebellious prisoners had only two revolvers. These had been secreted in one of the walls of the building by some unknown person. There are two walls partly completed and the remainder of the site of the building is surrounded by a high wooden stockade.

Ringleader Gets the Guns.

Gus Parker, of Ardmore, I. T., one of the ringleaders of the mutiny, under pretense of a necessity, walked to the corner of the stockade, where the revolvers were concealed, and under cover of some weeds secured them without being detected. He returned to the gang and passed one of the revolvers to Frank Thompson, a negro from South McAlester, I. T., who secreted it about his person. When T. E. Hinds, superintendent of construction, and three unarmed guards prepared to round up the men at the end of the day's work the two armed convicts covered them with the revolvers.

Battle With the Guards Begun.

Then, encouraged by the other mutinous convicts, they forced Hinds and the guards to walk before them to the northwestern corner of the stockade, where they expected to make a rush through an opening. At the opening in the stockade, however, the convicts were met by C. E. Burrows, a guard, who fought them back, but who received two shots in the neck. The convicts then rushed over to the south wall, to another opening, and were met by Arthur Treelford, an armed guard, who is in charge of all the convicts. Treelford resisted the convicts, and was shot twice, but not dangerously wounded. Defeated in their attempt to escape at this point the men rushed to the guard house, a temporary frame structure where the arms are kept.

Twenty-Six Thugs Get Away.

The guards from the outside rushed in at this point and drove the convicts away from the guard house. J. F. Waldrupe, a guard, shot and killed Ford Quinn, from Ryan, I. T. The prisoners then made a grand rush for the main entrance, and twenty-six of them succeeded in escaping. Most of the escaped men are from Indian Territory. Closely followed by the guards the men ran to a nearby forest and succeeded in evading their pursuers. The men went in the direction of Easton, Kan., and it is reported here that they have held up many farmers, taking horses and clothing en route.

Took Supt. Hinds Along.

Wardrupe was dangerously wounded in the neck and back. Guard Andrew Leonard has a broken leg and another convict, named Otter, was wounded, but went with the others. The convicts took Hinds along with them for two miles, and when they let him go W. F. Peaslee, one of the fugitives, concluded that prison fare was sure, and stole away back to the prison. He said the fugitives would break up into small parties and make for rough country southwest. Forty armed guards are in pursuit.

They Are Blazing Their Course.

The course that the fugitives have taken is indicated by the localities in which they have committed depredations. Many of their robberies are being reported. S. A. Davisson, a farmer ten miles southwest of here, was robbed of a horse and some clothing. Three of his employes were robbed of their coats and hats. C. T. Ferguson, a mail carrier, was robbed of his horse and cart.

IS NOW UP TO THE COURT.

Judge Advocate Lemly Makes the Closing Argument in the Schley Case.

Washington, Nov. 8.—After sittings covering forty days, and with a record which when completed will cover about 2,000 pages, the Schley court of inquiry yesterday at 3:45 p. m., adjourned its last public session. To Captain Lemly, the judge advocate, had been assigned the duty of making the closing argument in the case, and soon after he had completed his speech Admiral Dewey, bringing his gavel down upon the big flat table, said: "There being no further business, the court is adjourned."

Lemly's speech in the main was an analysis of the testimony, but occasionally a conclusion was drawn, and frequently there was criticism of the course pursued by Schley. Speaking of Commodore Schley's conduct Captain Lemly said: "From my knowledge of the man—having served under his command on two cruisers—I have never believed, nor do I claim from the evidence, that personal misconduct—or to call a spade a spade, cowardice—was exhibited by Commodore Schley. * * * But I submit with regret that * * * the commodore exhibited unsteadiness in purpose and in push and failure to obey orders"—in his management of the cruise on the south coast of Cuba in 1898.

At the conclusion of his remarks Lemly submitted a quantity of reports, etc., and then the final adjournment of the open court took place.

VICTIMS OF THE HURLEY FIRE.

Hope Expressed That All the Hurt Will Recover—Hero of the Event.

Hurley, Wis., Nov. 8.—All the injured in the Klondike theater fire, which caused the death of ten people, are still alive, and hopes are entertained for their recovery. Those who jumped from the windows were taken to the Twin City hospital at Ironwood, Mich., and are being cared for.

Jennie Bender, who was badly burned and injured about the head, is delirious most of the time. Her husband, Jack Bender, a fur dealer of St. Paul, has arrived and is with her at the hospital. Laura Russell is unconscious, and her recovery is still in doubt. Annie Scott, an actress, is also at the hospital badly bruised and burned.

William McLaughlin is so badly burned and bruised that his recovery is uncertain, and his wife from Ashland is at his bedside. "Slim" Kennedy, a waiter, was the hero of the fire. It was he that gave the alarm, and he saved the lives of five women by pushing them, against their will, from the side windows. Only two of the seven bodies taken from the ruins have been identified—Tim Ryan and Clara Bonne.

BEYOND DOUBT.

These Facts Must Convince Every Dixon Reader

That which follows is the experience of a resident of Dixon. Incredulity cannot exist about the statement because it can easily be investigated.

Mr. Wm. J. Gallagher, of 411 East 6th Street, painter and paper hanger, says:—"I am subject to attacks of pain in the back and shoulders and other annoyances due to some disorder of the kidneys, so bad at times as to prevent me from following my calling. I consistently and persistently tried when these attacks occurred to check them, but I met with little, if any success, until I went to Leake Bros.' drug store for Doan's Kidney Pills and took a course of the treatment. From the results obtained I have no hesitation in saying that Doan's Kidney Pills act as represented."

Sold for 50 cents per box by all dealers, or Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S.

Remember the name—Doan's and take no substitute.

Brain Food Nonsense.

Another ridiculous food fad has been branded by the most competent authorities. They have dispelled the silly notion that one kind of food is needed for brain, another for muscles, and stil another for bones. A correct diet will not only nourish a particular part of the body, but it will sustain every other part. Yet, however good your food may be, its nutriment is destroyed bo indigestion or dyspepsia. You must prepare for their appearance or prevent their coming by taking regular doses of Green's August Flower, the favorite medicine of the healthy millions. A few doses aids digestion, stimulates the liver to healthy action, purifies the blood, and makes you feel buoyant and vigorous. You can get Dr. G. G. Green's reliable remedies at E. M. Bunnell Co. Get Green's Special Almanac.

THE ATHENEUM.

The Good Citizens Can Now Find a Repository for Books, Magazines and Old Clothes.

The Atheneum Association holds a meeting this evening in the C. J. Rosbrook hall on First street at 7:30 o'clock to form classes in whatever line of study those attending may desire, and to form such clubs both for pleasure and mind improvement as may seem desirable. All active members and all others interested are cordially invited to be present. A large chorus will also be formed which anyone can join by paying a fee of fifty cents for ten weeks.

This fee also admits yearly members of the Association to any of the study classes formed, and also to all the public lectures and to the games and socials and library.

This is a rare opportunity for the improvement and amusement of those employed during the day.

Anyone having back numbers of magazines or books or cast-off clothes they may not need, will confer a kindness upon those do need them by dropping a postal to the secretary, Mr. C. D. Stetzler, or by calling up 'phone number 242 or 314 Lee County, and leaving word when they will be called for.

The Rosbrook hall on First street has been leased for one year and with the assistance of all good citizens of Dixon who may donate a little time to teach or lecture or other help, there is every prospect of the Atheneum work being a success. Special program for Monday evening announced tomorrow.

YOUTHFUL HORSE THIEVES.

Three Boys in Southeast Part of City Becoming Adepts in This Line.

During the past six months a number of complaints have been made to the police department of teams disappearing from the business streets which upon search would eventually be found in other parts of the city. The other night a farmer made the usual complaint and a careful search was at once begun, with the result that three boys, all under ten years of age, were found in possession of the farmer's rig. The boys live in the southeastern part of the city and have been mixed up in other escapades of like nature.

Some weeks ago they stole a number of blankets and robes, which they hid, but these were found by the officers and returned to the rightful owners. Recently they went to Downing Bros grocery and, claiming that they had been sent upon the errand, ordered grapes and a watermelon, which they said they would deliver, charging them to the name of Frank Ballou. The farmer does not feel as forgiving as did Mr. Ballou, as it was the second time his team had been taken and says that the boys or their parents will pay for the act in full. The case is now in the hands of States Attorney Charles H. Wooster.

Dr. Pankhurst Gets Three Geese.

While making a professional call north of Grand Detour, Dr. James Pankhurst of that place yesterday noticed a large flock of wild geese alight in a cornfield some distance from the road. This was too much for the doctor and the sportsman forthe nonce overcome the physician in him. He went to a nearby house and borrowed a double-barreled shotgun. After a long, stealthy approach he was able to get near enough for a shot, and bagged three of the honkers.

Addition to Sterling Factory.

Contracts were let yesterday by the Keystone Company of Sterling for an addition to their plant which will add 30,000 square feet of floor space. The company will use the new shop for the manufacture of gas and gasoline engines. The new shop will give employment to about fifty hands, mostly machinists.

Dr. Bulgen Here Next Week.

Dr. E. J. Bulgin, the pastoral evangelist, whose coming advent in our city, we announced last evening will commence his work in the Methodist church next Sunday, and continue each evening through the week. Near the close of a third session in Rockford, covering three weeks last March, the postor of Court Street Church said:

The meetings were successful; a very wholesome effect was left not only in the church but one likes Mr. Bulgin. His earnestness so marked, but free from sensation, his unselfishness and extreme capacity for work, his fine knowledge of the Bible and freedom from any hobbies, his logical presentation of truth, sweet spirit and vivid picturing by life-like illustrations, make him attractive and influential with both strong men and also little children. His Sunday work is really powerful. We need more of his type of evangelists.
